

MY CHOSEN MAN

V1: I didn't choose the wisest, smartest of men, but that I knew, way back when I didn't choose the simplest, easiest of souls, you drive me crazy, ideas, hormones
I didn't choose a movie star it wasn't for height poise looks
And you've never really made it, but you still read all those How To books and
You may not be a music star, excepting in your mind
You play your precious guitar for me, sing the songs you write
And you may not be be a millionaire, but you do make me laugh
Your pipe dreams never ending, I always carry your photograph

CH: (And) I give myself to you
I give myself to you
I give myself to you
Because I love you
I give myself to you
I give myself to you
I'm all I am for you
Because... I love you

V2: Distracted you forget, to treat me well sometimes
But then I know you care for me, you see, I read between the lines
And you often make me smile as, I think of your silly ways
I've got a naughty little boy beside of me somedays
You try to climb your mountain, I see you battling on your own
You don't ask for help, as you try to do it all alone
You have so many people who would love to see you fly
I hold you when you're broken by your battle, as you cry

CH:

BR: I see your pain from love you missed
Before you were a man
I promise that will never be again.
You look into my eyes to gently search, to say hello
I think you start to realise
I will never leave you go, and...
You love me in this quietness
As together we make our stand
I am your woman you are
My 'wonderful' chosen man

© 2016 Nicholas Mark Slater
22 May 2016

CH: CH:

nickyslater.com